

GovDeals provides services to government agencies that allow them to sell surplus and confiscated items via the Internet.

GovDeals.com - How to Register

Registration Steps Overview:

1. In the red field, select "register"
2. Fill out the Bidder Registration form

NOTE: GovDeals attempts to validate each registrant and may require additional information.

- Enter a username. (Do not use your email, website address, or company name)
- Enter your email address in the Email and Verify Email fields
- Enter your full First name and full Last name
- Select a country if outside the United States
- Enter your home address - DO NOT ENTER A P.O. BOX
- Enter the city where you reside
- Select your State/Province
- Enter your postal code
- Enter a phone number where you can receive a call or text in this format: 555-555-5555
- Select how you wish to receive your temporary password
- Select Reseller/Dealer or End User
- If Reseller/Dealer enter business name and select number of employees
- Read the terms and conditions
- Click on I disagree or I agree to the terms and conditions

3. Retrieve the email or text that was sent to you containing your temporary password
4. Use the link embedded in the email to return to the GovDeals login screen, enter your temporary password and then a permanent password
5. Log in with your username password

Please Note: All accounts begin on a 90-Day Probationary Period. See website for details and restrictions.

Bidding Process

For Online Auctions on the Site, a buyer that both meets the Listing requirements and enters the highest bid will be deemed a "Winning Buyer." If you are a Winning Buyer, then you are legally obligated to complete the transaction with the seller unless the transaction is prohibited by User Agreement or by law.

No Minimum Auctions Compared to Reserve Auctions. In the case of an Online Auction with "No Minimum," bidding starts with the bid increment and the Winning Buyer is the highest bidder. In the case of an Online Auction "With Reserve", the Winning Buyer is the highest bidder who exceeds the reserve price. However, in certain of our marketplaces where bidding below the reserve price is permitted, if the highest bidder in an Online Auction "With Reserve" is below the reserve price, such bidder's bid will be presented to the Seller who may accept, reject or counter the bid; if the bid is accepted by the seller, then the bidder is the Winning Buyer and is obligated to complete the purchase at the bid price.

Inspection of Assets

Most Listings permit inspection prior to or during bidding or ordering. In some cases, inspection requires an advance appointment or viewing Assets at specified public viewing times. Most Assets offered for sale are used and may contain defects. Where a Listing permits inspection of the Assets, a buyer should inspect the Assets prior to bidding or ordering. A buyer who bids or orders without having inspected the Assets does so at the buyer's own risk.

Payments

If you are a Winning Buyer, you agree to make immediate payment for the total amount of the transaction, including the stated buyer's premium, shipping costs, any other amounts specified in the Listing, and all taxes due, if applicable.

Forms of Payment. Unless otherwise specified in a Listing or on a marketplace on our Site, acceptable forms of payment include PayPal®, VISA®, Discover®, MasterCard®, American Express®, cashier's check, money order, wire transfer and company check with a bank letter of guarantee. Not all of our marketplaces provide all of these forms of payments and certain Listings may specify additional restrictions or requirements.

Fees. The amount of the buyer's premium is provided in the Listing, which varies by seller. A buyer's premium is a fee charged to the buyer that is a percentage of the bid or order amount. In most cases, the buyer's premium is considered a taxable amount, and will be taxed at the appropriate rate depending on the location of the Assets.

Please visit www.GovDeals.com for additional information.